EPA RRP LEAD PAINT CERTIFICATION

If you're a contractor working with EPA RRP Lead-Based Paint, you need to know that there are certain health risks involved. Especially when the paint is chipping, flaking, crushed, or sanded into dust. It can also cause learning disabilities and behavioral problems in children.

So if you're Renovating, Repairing, or Painting a house, you should be aware of all the health risks involved with "lead-based paint".

According to the EPA, you also need to be certified to operate with lead-based paint. So if you want to know more about the EPA rule, how to get the certification, or other dangers involved with lead-based paint, you can visit our website
